INTRODUCTION

Student Teaching is the culminating experience in Florida State University's Educator Preparation Unit.

Because of the special significance of the Student Teaching experience in the professional preparation of our teacher candidates, Florida State University Educator Preparation Unit is particularly indebted to the district schools and to the Cooperating Teachers and their administrators who make this clinical experience partnership possible.

This handbook is a resource guide addressing all facets of the Student Teaching experience. Focusing primarily on the responsibilities of the University Supervisor.

This handbook provides procedures and materials necessary to foster maximum professional growth of teacher candidates during Student Teaching.

Organized into two parts:

I. General Guide. Provides broad guidelines which apply to all Student Teachers at Florida State University, II. Appendices. Include general information applicable to all teacher candidates at Florida State, general forms, Student Teaching evaluation forms, and instructions.

This handbook serves as a comprehensive reference for all professionals participating in the Student Teaching experience.

EDUCATOR PREPARATION UNIT MISSION

THE FLORIDA STATE UNIVERSITY

Professional education at FSU is the work of a broad-based cross section of educators spread throughout the FSU campus. We are joined by a sense of common purpose in one Educator Preparation Unit.

Mission of the Educator Preparation Unit

The Florida State University Educator Preparation Unit is based on a conceptual framework that engages faculty, teacher candidates, and community constituents in instruction that moves, leadership that inspires, and scholarship that makes a difference in the 21st century.

The Educator Preparation Unit prepares educational leaders who uphold high professional and academic standards, engage in scientific inquiry, and implement positive results as a basis for the continual improvement of student learning. They assess the needs and abilities of students from diverse backgrounds through the use of appropriate instructional strategies and technologies, demonstrating care and commitment to the belief that all students can learn. Candidates develop these qualities while they study and work within a community of professional partners.
ORGANIZATIONAL CHART

Director of Student Teaching:
University Faculty Member who administers and coordinates all phases of the Student Teaching program.

Program Coordinator:

ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF UNIVERSITY SUPERVISORS

A. Introduction

The University Supervisor coordinates the program of Student Teachers under his or her supervision and provides support for both the Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher. The University Supervisor must be a readily accessible confidant, trouble shooter, resource person, and teacher. The major responsibilities of the University Supervisor are discussed below.

B. Expectations of Student Teachers and Cooperating Teachers

Student Teachers and their Cooperating Teachers expect the following:

Student Teachers Expect:
- An orientation to the program and its requirements;
- Timely and periodic observations, targeted feedback, and suggestions for improvement;
- Early identification of specific weaknesses to allow for improvement during Student Teaching.
- Fair and continuing, actionable assessment of performance;
- Support, especially during times of personal and professional concern;
- Recognition of success; and
- Provision of final evaluative references.

Cooperating Teachers Expect:
- Clear information about the program and its requirements;
- Support throughout the Student Teaching placement;
- Timely response to professional problems, including inadequate performance and inappropriate Student Teacher behavior;
- Professional courtesy in working together; and
- Recognition of success.

C. Prior to the Student Teaching Experience

The Office of Academic Services and Intern Support provides a required orientation session the semester prior to Student Teaching.

University Supervisors must provide an orientation for Student Teachers and their Cooperating Teachers. Written descriptions of program-specific expectations (lesson planning, projects, portfolio, work sample, etc.) should be provided to the Student Teachers via the Program’s Student Teaching Course Syllabus.

Orientation of Student Teachers

Either before the internship begins or during the first week of internship, University Supervisors describe clearly:
- Expectations of Student Teachers, including policies governing Student Teachers,
- Specific assignments the Student Teacher must complete during the term,
- Evaluation processes:
  - Who will conduct the evaluations (Cooperating Teachers and University Supervisors),
  - Frequency of evaluations and observations (see Evaluation Schedule in Appendix E),
  - Formative and Summative Evaluation Instruments (LEON LEADS and Dispositions).
Orientation of Cooperating Teachers

University Supervisors schedule meetings and provide written guidelines for Cooperating Teachers so they are informed of academic program expectations prior to the Student Teaching experience.

Before Student Teachers begin their assignment or by the end of the first week of Student Teaching, University Supervisors:

1. Ensure the Cooperating Teacher has a current copy of the Student Teaching Handbook and Evaluation Schedule.
2. Establish an open relationship with the Cooperating Teacher(s). This relationship is as vital as the one between you and the Student Teacher.
3. Discuss:
   1. Roles and expectations of the Cooperating Teacher, University Supervisor, and the Student Teacher.
   2. The need for mutual support between the Cooperating Teacher and the University Supervisor, including full support of the School and Student Teaching policies.
   3. Program policies on absences, check-in/check-out time, discipline, classroom management, lesson planning, and other relevant areas.
   4. Sequential Plan and the assumption of teaching duties.
   5. Specific assignments given to the Student Teacher.
   6. Minimum ratings expected on Summative Student Teaching Evaluation.
   7. Observations the Student Teacher is expected to make.
   8. Periodic evaluations to be collaborated upon (see Appendix E). Review all observation/evaluation instruments to facilitate understanding and increase rating reliability.

D. During the Student Teaching Experience

To ensure due process is provided to each Student Teacher, the University Supervisor is expected to monitor the Student Teaching experience in the following ways:

1. Routinely observe and document the Student Teacher's progress. If a Student Teacher is experiencing difficulty, appropriately increase the number of observations to collect data and provide targeted feedback.
2. Observe and counsel Student Teachers early enough in the semester to allow them time to improve their teaching performance.
3. Complete comprehensive, systematic evaluation of Student Teachers. The University Supervisor shall document and discuss with Student Teachers and Cooperating Teachers the results and recommendations of each observation.
4. Complete remediation plans as indicated by evaluation ratings (see Appendix E).
5. Timely inform Student Teachers of less-than-satisfactory teaching performance, no later than mid-way through the Student Teaching experience. In such cases, guidelines and expectations for the remainder of the program must be clearly identified at that time by both the University Supervisor and the Cooperating Teacher. (see Section “T” under “General Policies and Procedures for Student Teaching,” located earlier in this handbook)
6. Complete and submit timely the appropriate forms and reports at the end of the semester. A Summative Evaluation must be submitted timely for each Student Teacher (see Appendix E).

Contacts with Student Teachers and Formal Observations

University Supervisors are expected to maintain weekly contact with Student Teachers. These contacts may be electronic communications, formal observations, informal observations, brief visits, or conferences. At least four observations, two formal, of each Student Teacher are expected.
A formal observation includes a pre-observation conference with the Student Teacher, an extended observation (at least 30 minutes, preferably more) at one sitting, a post-observation conference, and a written evaluation (including completion of a Student Teaching Formal Observation Form). Copies of each written evaluation should be shared with the Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher, and program. Form (see Appendix E).

Pre-Observation Conference

The steps below outline the Pre-Observation Conference University Supervisors should follow as part of a formal observation:

1. Identify objectives and relevant situational information (i.e., what are the issues and what is it that you are working on?).
2. Identify/review areas of focus to be given special attention:
   a. Behaviors to maintain/increase,
   b. Behaviors to reduce/eliminate,
   c. Strategies/activities to explore or try.
3. Select observation method.
4. Agree on observation time and logistics.

Post-Observation Conference

The steps below outline the Post-Observation Conference University Supervisors should follow as part of a formal observation:

1. Review Pre-observation conference agreements;
2. Discuss data and analyze identifiable patterns with the Student Teacher;
3. Guide the Student Teacher to identify behaviors to:
   a. Maintain or increase;
   b. Reduce or eliminate;
4. Discuss strategies or activities to explore or try;
5. Specify and document everyone's responsibilities; and
6. Schedule next observation or conference.

E. End of Student Teaching Experience

Summative Student Teaching Evaluation Form Completion and Submission

All Student Teachers are to have a Summative Evaluation completed by both the University Supervisor and Cooperating Teacher. The Summative Evaluation forms are available digitally and submitted prior to grades being filed. The Cooperating Teacher may contact the Student Teaching Director for assistance. All Student Teachers are to complete required surveys before the end of the semester. The University Supervisor should ensure Student Teachers complete the required surveys prior to finals week.

End of Term Responsibilities

University Supervisors must ensure the following items are on official file at the end of the term:

1. Four formal observation reports/evaluations (Formative 1, 2, 3, Summative) and disposition evaluations, uploaded into LiveText (see Appendix E);
2. Shared Copies of the Cooperating Teacher’s formal observations and evaluations;
3. Any other materials required by the program.

Letters of Recommendation

University Supervisor’s may wish to prepare a letter of recommendation for each Student Teacher at the end of the term. A copy of this letter may be placed in the program file.

Write letters of recommendation for Student Teachers

G. General Suggestions for University Supervisors

1. Inform Student Teachers and Cooperating Teachers of supervisory visits in advance, so that school schedule changes will not preclude observation.
2. Review carefully the scheduled performance evaluations submitted by Cooperating Teachers. Early identification of weaknesses should lead to early remediation. Lack of steady progress using LEON LEADS and Dispositions instruments should be addressed timely (see Student Teaching Evaluation Schedule in Appendix E).
3. It is good practice to have personal conferences with Student Teachers and with Cooperating Teachers during observation visits.

H. Other Responsibilities

Travel Authorization Request

File a "Travel Authorization Request" at least fifteen days before making any trip for which you expect to be reimbursed. Normally, this is done through a one-time filing of estimated travel expenses for the semester. Contact Rhonda Hester (rhester@fsu.edu), in OASIS, for assistance.
A. Student Teaching Placement – The placement process involves collaborating with schools or appropriate agencies to secure mutually beneficial learning environments in which Student Teachers work to gain supervised teaching experience and demonstrate the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices, as assessed using LEON LEADS. The Student Teaching Director receives approved placement requests from program personnel and communicates those requests to schools or appropriate agencies. A positive dialog continues until a suitable placement with qualified personnel is secured and confirmed by the exchange of properly executed agreements. Ultimately, the final decision of accepting a Student Teacher for internship rests solely with the school or placement agency.

B. First Day in School and Calendar – Prior to beginning Student Teaching, the Student Teacher must establish contact with the Cooperating Teacher. The Student Teacher reports to school at the same time Cooperating Teachers are expected to report, and should report first to the school office and then to the Cooperating Teacher. The Student Teacher should meet the school principal at the earliest opportunity. Note: The Student Teacher will follow the school district calendar, not the FSU semester calendar.

C. Absences During Student Teaching – Student Teachers are permitted no absences during Student Teaching. If illness or an emergency should require the Student Teacher to be absent from school for any period of time, it is the sole responsibility of the Student Teacher to notify the Cooperating Teacher and University Supervisor as soon as possible. In cases of prolonged or repeated absence, the University Supervisor will, after consulting with the Cooperating Teacher and School Principal (or designee), determine whether the Student Teacher’s experience will be extended or terminated.

D. Attire and Grooming – The attire and grooming of the Student Teacher must meet or exceed accepted professional practices of the institution in which the Student Teacher has been placed. Student Teachers may be dismissed by the institution for failure to comply with the institution’s grooming and dress code requirements. Student Teachers should seek the guidance of the Cooperating Teacher or the School Principal in these matters.

E. Outside Activities – The Student Teacher must not engage in out-of-school (outside) activities, including employment, which interfere with teaching responsibilities in any way. If there is a pressing need for participation in any outside activity, first, it must be cleared with the University Supervisor and second, the Cooperating Teacher.

F. Taking Additional Courses Concurrently with Student Teaching Course(s) – Because of the intensity of the Student Teaching experience, students may not enroll in additional courses during the Student Teaching semester unless approved by the Program Coordinator.

G. Restrictions on Placement – Student Teachers should not be placed in a high school from which they have graduated or in a school in which an immediate relative is a student or staff member.

H. Students with Disabilities - In keeping with Section 504 of the 1973 Vocational Rehabilitation Act and with The Americans with Disabilities Act, students with disabilities, who have successfully completed all necessary prerequisites, may be allowed to Student Teach. Given the circumstances in identifying and securing an appropriate placement and arranging any necessary accommodations, such candidates should consult with the FSU Student Teaching Director and their program advisor early in the Student Teaching application process.
I. Temporary Physical Conditions – It is strongly advised and encouraged that students inform the FSU Student Teaching Director of special health conditions (severe allergies, pregnancy, temporary medication, etc.) prior to the negotiation of placements for Student Teaching. This notification will afford the school site personnel and the Student Teaching Director an opportunity to seek appropriate placement assignments.

J. FSU Career Center – Student Teachers are encouraged to contact the FSU Career Center prior to Student Teaching semester. The Career Center (www.career.fsu.edu) has staff to assist with preparation of resumes, interviewing skills, professional networking, and other services to prepare students for job searches.

K. Housing – Arrangements for living accommodations in the area where the Student Teacher interns is the sole responsibility of the Student Teacher.

L. Transportation – It is the sole responsibility of the Student Teacher to arrange his or her own transportation throughout Student Teaching.

M. Conveyance of Funds – Before leaving campus, the Student Teacher should make proper arrangements for the conveyance of funds (financial aid, banking transfers), if necessary, to the area in which he or she will Student Teach.

N. Substitute Teaching – Student Teachers are not permitted to serve as Substitute Teachers. (see next section for more details).

O. Social and Professional Activities

1. Extracurricular activities – A Student Teacher may observe and participate in various approved extracurricular activities present in the school (e.g., interest clubs, athletic teams, field trips, and public performances). Appropriate protocol, including the assistance and securing of permission from the Cooperating Teacher, School Administration, and University Supervisor, must be followed prior to the Student Teacher’s engagement in extracurricular activities.

2. Social Activities - It is expected that Student Teachers will lead normal lives both professionally and socially. They should, in fact, seek to broaden contacts with the community through appropriate social activities open to teachers, but must exercise mature judgment, tact, and discretion in all relations with students.

3. Social Media and Appropriate Online Interaction –
   - Present yourself professionally and cordially at all times.
   - Post nothing about your school or school students on any social media.
   - Exercise great discretion in posting anything personal on social media.
   - Exhibit the highest professional standards during online interactions.
   - Check your emails and other correspondence carefully before sending. Proper and appropriately written and oral communication is expected (i.e., clear and reflects proper grammar and spelling).

4. Professional Activities – When appropriate, the Student Teacher should attend and participate in professional meetings. These include in-service seminars, faculty meetings, PTO sessions, subject area meetings, etc.

P. Teacher Strikes or Work Stoppages – If a teacher strike or work stoppage occurs after the Student Teacher has begun his or her assignment:
1. The Student Teacher will, in the case of complete work stoppage, be directed to report to the University Supervisor, not the assigned school.

2. The Student Teacher will, in cases of prolonged work stoppage extending two weeks or more, be reassigned.

If the strike or work stoppage begins prior to the start of Student Teaching, the Student Teacher will report to the University Supervisor instead of the assigned school. In the event that a strike or work stoppage is called by any group other than the recognized teacher bargaining agent for the district, the Student Teacher will report to his or her Student Teaching assignment, providing the Cooperating Teacher is on duty. During a strike or work stoppage, no Florida State University Student Teacher will act as a substitute teacher or in any capacity other than that specified in the original Student Teaching placement agreement.

Q. Graduation Responsibilities – Student Teachers must arrange for a graduation check with their program and the registrar’s office as they complete 100 semester hours in a given semester. The student must also apply for graduation during the first two weeks of the graduation semester. If the Student Teacher plans to participate in graduation exercises, he or she must make reservations by the published deadline (see FSU Registrar’s website).

R. Cancellation of an Assignment – When cancellation of a Student Teaching assignment becomes necessary, the appropriate academic program or departmental chair should initiate such cancellation with the FSU Student Teaching Director. Student Teachers must not leave their assignments without the permission of their University Supervisor and Student Teaching Director.

S. Reassignment During Student Teaching – When advisable, a Student Teaching placement may be changed only with the approval of the academic program, school, and district personnel. Steps to initiate such a change shall originate with the academic program supervisor and in cooperation with the FSU Student Teacher Coordinator and the appropriate school and district personnel.

T. Unsatisfactory Performance of a Student Teacher:

1. Steps Necessary for the Provision of Due Process (unless Administrative Removal occurs—see next section)

   a. In situations where the Student Teacher is progressing at a rate that, in the view of the University Supervisor and the Cooperating Teacher, will prevent successful completion of Student Teaching, the Student Teacher shall be notified by the University Supervisor, both verbally and in writing via student’s FSU email account, of the specific deficiencies requiring improvement. This notification shall be provided as early as reasonably possible in the Student Teaching experience.

   b. After such notification, but before a decision is made to render an unsatisfactory grade or to terminate the Student Teaching experience, the University Supervisor and Cooperating Teacher, will meet with the Student Teacher to discuss the performance concern(s), and shall identify a specific period of time in which the Student Teacher must demonstrate the required performance. Very specific identification of the competencies requiring improvement and of what the Student Teacher must do to bring about such improvement shall be provided both verbally and in writing via a remediation plan, using official remediation planning forms, and sent to the student’s official FSU email account. The Student shall confirm receipt and understanding of the remediation plan. During this period, the University Supervisor and the Cooperating Teacher shall regularly provide the Student Teacher with assistance and feedback regarding his/her progress in correcting the deficiencies.

c. If the Student Teacher continues to perform unsatisfactorily, continues to demonstrate unacceptable behavior, or is not able to sustain an adequate level of learning on the part of his/her assigned students as determined by the University Supervisor and the Cooperating Teacher in their sole discretion, then, the University Supervisor may issue a grade of “unsatisfactory” or in extreme cases, in cooperation with the College’s Office of Academic Services and Intern Support, terminate the Student Teaching experience before the end of the term.

d. In rendering decisions affecting the Student Teacher, it is imperative that the Student Teacher participate in these decision processes. If the Student Teacher does not participate in these decision processes, the University may render a decision without input from the Student Teacher.

2. Administrative Removal

a. A Student Teacher may be removed from Student Teaching, without prior notice, if the School Principal or the Cooperating Teacher, in their sole discretion, determine that the presence of the Student Teacher is a threat to the learning, health, safety, or welfare of the pupils with whom the Student Teacher is assigned to work. This process shall be known as Administrative Removal.

b. The University Supervisor shall give the Student Teacher written notice of the Administrative Removal within a 24-hour period, or as soon as reasonably possible. The Student Teacher has the right to discuss and review such Administrative Removal with the appropriate FSU Program Coordinator. Unless instructed otherwise, the Student Teacher shall not contact school or district personnel to discuss the Administrative Removal action.

c. Student Teachers removed from a placement shall leave the school promptly without protest and have no further contact with school or district personnel or school students.

3. Reassignment

At any point during Student Teaching, a Student Teacher may be reassigned to another classroom if such reassignment is deemed necessary by the University Supervisor in consultation with all appropriate parties concerned, and, a Remediation Plan, if required, has been completed successfully. Such reassignment arrangements shall be made through the Director of Student Teaching.

If a second Student Teaching assignment is deemed appropriate after a Student Teacher’s unsatisfactory performance, the Director of Student Teaching and/or the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs will work with the Student Teacher’s program to explore the possibility of a second Student Teaching placement. Nothing in this policy should be construed as a guarantee for a second placement attempt.
As part of the exploration process for a possible second placement, the student must:

(1) Successfully complete an appropriate Remediation Plan which includes sufficient evaluation data that indicates clearly the Student Teacher has demonstrated the expected performance to the appropriate level, as determined by the program faculty in their sole discretion and consistent with stated standards [e.g., affiliation agreements executed between Florida Student University and a respective school/agency and Florida’s Code of Ethics and Professional Code of Conduct (Rule 6A-10.080, FAC; Rule 6A-10.081, FAC); Florida Educator Accomplished Practices (Rule 6A-5065, FAC), as assessed using LEON LEADS, and Unit Dispositions;

(2) Reapply for Student Teaching placement, beginning with the respective academic program, and then, through the Office of Academic Services and Intern Support.

Note. If a second placement is secured and the Student Teacher fails to achieve the required performance by the specified time frame, under no circumstances will a third placement be attempted.

To protect the integrity of a partnership between Florida State University and a respective school/agency, Florida State University through the College of Education’s Office of Academic Services and Intern Support reserves the right to fully discuss with the placement agency reasons for the second placement. Ultimately, the final decision of accepting a Student Teacher for Internship (Student Teaching) rests solely with the placement agency.

U. Students Arranging Their Own Student Teaching Assignments. Student Teachers, or their family members, shall not, in any way, attempt to or independently arrange their own Student Teaching assignments, or contact an agency to discuss any aspect of the placement unless so directed by an appropriate FSU official. This policy applies also to parents, friends, or relatives of the Student Teacher.

V. Grade Appeal Procedure – A Student Teacher who receives an unsatisfactory grade may appeal that grade through the regular FSU grade appeals system.

X. Initial Teacher Certification Procedures and Materials – Guidelines and materials for securing initial teacher certification in Florida are available from the Florida Department of Education, Educator Certification Section.
SUBSTITUTING AND/OR ABSENCE OF COOPERATING TEACHER

Substitute Teaching – Student Teaching does not include the use of the Student Teacher as a substitute teacher.

The Student Teacher must be under supervision at all times by a qualified teacher or administrator. If the Cooperating Teacher's absence extends beyond three (3) days, the school should, in cooperation with the University Supervisor and Student Teaching Director, arrange for continued supervision of the Student Teacher, agree that this arrangement may continue, or determine that a substitute teacher will teach the classes in the Cooperating Teacher's absence. A possible change of placement assignment may also be considered.

BASIC CONCEPTS AND COMPONENTS OF THE STUDENT TEACHING PROGRAM

Student Teaching represents the culminating experience in the University's Educator Preparation Program. Student Teachers synthesize and apply theoretical knowledge from previous courses in realistic, planned, professional settings to prepare for success in full-time teaching in a Florida public school. Student Teachers are expected to demonstrate competency in the Florida Educator Accomplished Practices, as assessed using LEON LEADS, at the pre-professional level, Educator Preparation Unit Dispositions, and the ability to positively impact student learning.

Student Teachers are learners and should be gradually inducted into the various phases of teaching. A Co-Teaching model should be emphasized in Student Teaching.

Student Teachers participate in all activities normally expected of regular faculty members, including non-teaching duties, communication with parents, faculty professional development and other meetings and extracurricular activities. Student Teachers adapt assignments to the pupils, content, and instructional methods of their Cooperating Teachers.

Components of the Student Teaching Program are outlined below. These include: Major Phases of the Student Teaching Program (see Appendix A), Sequential Plan for Student Teaching, and Student Teaching Evaluation.
SEQUENTIAL PLAN FOR STUDENT TEACHING

The sequential plan for student teaching provides for the gradual induction of the Student Teacher into teaching. The development of the semester Sequential Plan of Experiences and Content should be a cooperative effort between the Cooperating Teacher and the Student Teacher during or prior to the first full week of the teaching experience. Use the following plan as a guide. It may be modified to meet the special needs and circumstances of your classroom setting or program.

A. Orientation (Week One)
   1. Observation - Observe in Cooperating Teacher's classes, learning names and pertinent information about the students, techniques used, and materials available.
   2. Teaching - Tutor one student; teach one phase of a lesson, etc.
   3. Participation - Assist teacher in collecting papers, checking roll, organizing groups, and be involved in some participation from the first day.
   4. Planning – Cooperatively develop plans for next week's teaching with the Cooperating Teacher.
   5. Conferring - Confer daily with the Cooperating Teacher regarding mutual expectations.
   6. Class Schedule – By the end of the first week, Student Teacher should forward class schedule to assist the University Supervisor in planning observations.

B. Expanding Responsibilities (Week Two)
   1. Observation - Begin some observations of teachers other than Cooperating Teacher and School Service Personnel. (Always request permission well in advance.)
   2. Teaching - Assume responsibility for teaching one class if Student Teacher is at the secondary-school level or one subject if at the elementary-school level. Increase participation in class or subject for which the Student Teacher will next assume responsibility.
   3. Participation - Continue and increase participation activities to include instructional, routine, and supplemental non-teaching activities.
   4. Planning - Continue cooperative development of plans with Student Teacher assuming more responsibility.
   5. Conferring & Evaluating - Confer daily with the Cooperating Teacher for the purpose of planning and continuous evaluation.

C. Gradual Induction (Weeks Three to Five)
   1. Observation - Continue various types of observation as time permits. Observation should decrease as teaching responsibilities increase.
   2. Teaching – Gradually assume responsibility for additional class(es) or subject(s).
   3. Participation - Continue participation in all areas of the teacher's responsibility.
   4. Planning - Plan as necessary for increased teaching responsibility.
   5. Conferring & Evaluating - Continue daily conferences and evaluation.

D. Full Time Teaching (Weeks Six Through Next to Final Teaching Week)
   1. Teaching - Teaching responsibility should have increased gradually so that the Student Teacher assumes a full schedule during these weeks.
   2. Participation - Continue participation as necessary for increased responsibility.
   3. Planning - Plan as necessary for increased teaching responsibility.
   4. Conferring & Evaluating - Continue daily conferences with Cooperating Teacher for the purpose of planning and continuous evaluation.
   5. Complete the Summative Evaluation by the last week of student teaching.

E. Wrap-Up (Final Teaching Week)
   1. Gradually, teaching responsibility should be returned to the Cooperating Teacher so that Student Teacher responsibility is concluded during the final week of teaching.
2. Observations in different grade levels and diverse schools are recommended during the last week of student teaching. Arrangements should be completed well in advance with the advice, approval, and assistance of the Cooperating Teacher and principal.

Note: The Student Teacher’s progress should be formally evaluated regularly by the Cooperating Teacher and University Supervisor throughout the experience (see Appendix E).

STUDENT TEACHING EVALUATION – GENERAL INFORMATION

A. Purpose

Formative and summative evaluation results provide the Student Teacher constructive feedback regarding performance (both strengths and weaknesses linked to FEAPS, as assessed using LEON LEADS, and dispositions). The Student Teacher must also demonstrate a positive impact on student learning (see Appendix E).

B. Scheduled Use

The Cooperating Teacher and University Supervisor confer and complete periodically scheduled Dispositional, Formative and Summative evaluations of the Student Teacher’s progress (see Appendix E). Copies of evaluations (digital and/or hardcopy) should be retained by the Student Teacher and the Cooperating Teacher. Some academic programs may additionally require a portfolio of products to document pre-professional achievement of the Accomplished Practices.

C. Important General Points

1. Evaluate the Student as a Beginning Teacher
   - The Student Teacher should be viewed as a beginning teacher throughout the experience and evaluated accordingly.

2. Show Cumulative Progress
   - Evaluations should demonstrate the cumulative growth of the Student Teacher. As the internship progresses, more and more skills will be rated. The LEON LEADS Elements and Rubrics should be used to form the basis of evaluation.

3. Be Honest
   - Both Cooperating Teachers and University Supervisors should be honest and fair in completing their evaluations. Use observation data, lesson plans, K-12 student work, and the LEADS Rubric to guide ratings.

4. Employ Cooperative Evaluation
   - Evaluative conferences afford Student Teachers the opportunity to participate in evaluations, practice self-evaluation, and respond to assessment of his or her progress.

5. Provide Specific Feedback and Assistance
   - When the Student Teacher needs to improve, suggestions for doing so should be given in specific, written terms. Such suggestions should be discussed and made in writing, and copies retained by both the Student Teacher and the Cooperating Teacher.
6. Review LEON LEADS and Rubrics
   To increase reliability of evaluations, definitions should be mutually reviewed early and regularly during the experience. The Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher should reach understanding on their interpretations (see Appendix E).

7. Provide Written Comments
   “Unacceptable” or “Developing 1” ratings require comments. Written comments provide more information than ratings and are particularly helpful to University Supervisors, Programs, and potential employers.

8. Complete Summative Student Teaching Evaluation
   The Student Teacher, Cooperating Teacher, and University Supervisor must be involved in the Summative Evaluation (University Supervisor uploads results into LiveText; see Appendix E). The summative evaluation results indicate behavior and competencies observed throughout the Student Teaching experience.

9. Explanation of Ratings for Summative Evaluation
   For the summative evaluation, determine whether each LEON LEADS Element has been demonstrated to at least minimum standard (see Student Teaching Evaluation Schedule). The LEADS Rubrics should be used to form the basis of evaluation.

   NOTE: The Student Teacher (Intern) must demonstrate at least 22 of the 37 LEADS indicators at the “Effective” level or higher and have no ratings of “Not Using” or “Beginning” to pass Student Teaching (see Appendix E).
Appendix A: Major Phases of the Student Teaching Program

MAJOR PHASES OF THE STUDENT TEACHING PROGRAM

The Cooperating Teacher, with support from the University Supervisor should assist the Student Teacher in planning a program of experiences that includes: Observation, Participation, Planning, Conferring, Teaching, and Evaluation.

A. Observation

1. Specific observation helps the Student Teacher grow and gain a diversity of perspectives. Observations include:
   a. The Cooperating Teacher and assigned class(es);
   b. Other teachers and classes (e.g., same grade level or within the discipline, students of diverse ability levels and backgrounds, the same students taught by other teachers, and/or other observations specified in academic program/departmental guidelines);
   c. School services;
   d. Other features of the school program of interest or value;
   e. Extracurricular and other activities involving parents and the community.

2. Observation arrangements should be made in advance in concert with the Cooperating Teacher. School observations outside the assigned classes should occur early in the program, prior to the assumption of much teaching responsibility, and/or toward the end of Student Teaching.

3. The Student Teacher should identify specific observational goals that include:
   a. Classroom management techniques;
   b. Instructional techniques;
   c. Techniques useful in positively engaging all class members in learning;
   d. Ways of structuring effective routines and transitions;
   e. Differences among learners;
   f. Teacher behaviors to which learners respond in positive ways;
   g. Use of technology in instruction and classroom administration;
   h. Physical conditions of the classroom and their influence on teaching.

4. Professional Student Teachers identify effective learning techniques, are positive in assessing observations, and thank other teachers and staff members for providing observation opportunities.

B. Participation

1. Because it provides practice, participatory activities should begin on the first day and gradually increase until the Student Teacher has full teaching responsibility. Participatory activities should include:
   a. Instructional - brief, teaching-related activities;
   b. Routine - classroom and school-wide activities;
   c. Supplementary - non-teaching activities such as bus or cafeteria duty.

2. Suggested participatory experiences include:
   a. Working with individuals, small groups, and students with special needs;
   b. Care of the classroom and instructional supplies, equipment, and technology;
   c. Keeping records and making reports;
   d. Administrative duties of the classroom teacher;
   e. Assistance with student activities such as clubs, athletic events, and social functions;
f. Attendance at professional meetings, parent-teacher student conferences, and School Advisory Council meetings.

C. Planning

While Student Teachers have received training in planning, some general suggestions concerning continuous planning include:

1. Lesson Planning Considerations:
   a. Should be a cooperative endeavor between the Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher, particularly in the early stages of the internship;
   b. As confidence and skill develop, the Student Teacher should require decreasing planning assistance from the Cooperating Teacher;
   c. The Student Teacher must obtain Cooperating Teacher approval of lesson plans prior to teaching;
   d. The Student Teacher should be encouraged to show initiative and creativity in planning.

2. Suggested Sequence for Inducting the Student Teacher into Planning:
   a. Allow Student Teacher to examine the Cooperating Teacher’s daily lesson plans;
   b. Develop daily plans cooperatively (Co-Teaching Approach).
   c. The Student Teacher’s role should gradually progress to independent planning.

3. Remember:
   a. Student Teachers should produce and keep daily, weekly, and unit plans;
   b. Learning outcomes and assessing learning should be evident;
   c. Classroom activities should incorporate appropriate technology;
   d. All plans should be submitted prior to use and be approved by the Cooperating Teacher. The University Supervisor should review lesson plans prior to observations;
   e. What works for the Cooperating Teacher may not work for the Student Teacher.

D. Conferring

Daily conferring is critical to Student Teacher growth and effective communication. Conferences should be both informal and formal.

1. The Informal Conference
   a. Brief informal conferences may take place between classes, at lunch, or at other times during the day.
   b. Informal discussions provide opportunities to explore teaching strategies and evaluate their results based on student learning.
   c. Informal conferences provide opportunities for immediate feedback.

2. The Formal Conference
   a. Formal conferences should be scheduled on a regular, frequent basis throughout the Student Teaching experience.
   b. Formal conferences have:
      (1) Purpose - to review the Student Teacher's progress in light of program expectations and clearly defined teaching competencies delineated in Florida Educator Accomplished Practices, as assessed using LEON LEADS;
      (2) Preparation - Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher will have questions, observation notes, video or audio tapes, or other evaluative data available;
      (3) Procedure - mutual participation and pooling of ideas;
      (4) Result - to identify strengths and weaknesses within an atmosphere of mutual respect and cooperation.
3. Effective Conference Behaviors
The following practices promote growth and positive working relationships:
   a. Cooperating Teacher:
      (1) Provides constructive, honest, and specific feedback;
      (2) Provides objective data;
      (3) Praises and encourages;
      (4) Asks for ideas, opinions, and clarifications of the Student Teacher;
      (5) Accepts ideas and opinions of Student Teacher.
   b. Student Teacher:
      (1) Reflects and evaluates own teaching with a focus on continual improvement;
      (2) Analyzes evaluation data to determine strengths and weaknesses;
      (3) Offers ideas, opinions, and clarifications;
      (4) Asks for Cooperating Teacher’s ideas, opinions, and clarifications;
      (5) Accepts ideas and suggestions.

4. Pre-observation Conference Steps
   a. Identify objectives and relevant situational information (i.e., what are the issues and what is it that you are working on).
   b. Identify/review areas of focus to be given special attention:
      i. Behaviors to maintain/increase,
      ii. Behaviors to reduce/eliminate,
      iii. Strategies/activities to explore or try.
   c. Select observation method.
   d. Agree on observation time and logistics.

6. Post-Observation Conference Steps
   1. Review pre-observation conference agreements;
   2. Discuss data and analyze identifiable patterns with the Student Teacher;
   3. Guide the Student Teacher to identify behaviors to:
      a. Maintain or increase;
      b. Reduce or eliminate;
   4. Discuss strategies or activities to explore or try;
   5. Specify and document everyone’s responsibilities; and
   6. Schedule next observation or conference.

E. Teaching
   1. Student Teachers should follow a plan of gradual induction into full teaching responsibilities to allow time for:
      a. Specific observation of the Cooperating Teacher’s techniques;
      b. Careful planning of initial teaching experiences;
      c. Analysis of early teaching experiences;
      d. Confirmation of the Student Teacher’s demonstrated readiness for teaching.
   2. Demonstrated Readiness is the most important factor in determining when and how much a Student Teacher teaches. An unsatisfactory situation may result if the Student Teacher assumes teaching responsibility prior to demonstrating readiness. The desirable state of readiness should occur as a result of gradual induction into teaching.
   3. The Student Teacher begins teaching a class when:
      a. Sufficiently acquainted with the pupils, with suitable teaching methods, and with available teaching materials;
      b. A reasonable degree of confidence has been developed;
c. The Cooperating Teacher is confident the Student Teacher is ready to teach the class.

F. Evaluation

Central to the professional education program at Florida State University is performance-based evaluations of the Student Teacher's progress toward becoming an Educational Leader. As a continuing and cooperative effort among the Student Teacher, the Cooperating Teacher, and the University Supervisor, this evaluation process should establish a life-long practice of continuous professional improvement.

1. The Formative and Summative Evaluation Forms
   a. The Digital Forms based on the Accomplished Practices, as assessed using Leon School District's Teacher Evaluation Model, LEON LEADS, will be employed via LiveText (www.LiveText.com). (see Appendix E)
   b. The Cooperating Teacher and University Supervisor must participate in the Formative, Summative, and Dispositions Evaluations. The University Supervisor shall upload into LiveText the agreed upon evaluation results.

2. Formative Evaluations
   At scheduled intervals (see Student Teaching Evaluation Schedule), the Cooperating Teacher and University Supervisor record judgments of the Student Teacher's progress based on established standards. It is vital that the Student Teacher be made aware of both strengths and weaknesses at every stage in the program. Sufficient, but reasonable, time for improvement must be provided so the Student Teacher can work to eliminate any deficiencies that might otherwise appear on the Summative Evaluation.

3. The Summative Evaluation Report
   The Summative Evaluation Report must reflect the level of performance attained by the Student Teacher at the completion of Student Teaching. Summative Evaluation Report(s) are the results of a final meeting that involves the Cooperating Teacher, University Supervisor, and Student Teacher. The University Supervisor is responsible for uploading the Summative Evaluation Report into LiveText (see Appendix E).

4. Grading
   The University Supervisor assumes final responsibility for assigning the grade of S (Satisfactory) or U (Unsatisfactory) at the completion of Student Teaching; however, the Cooperating Teacher’s evaluations are a major factor in assigning the grade. A Student Teacher cannot receive a grade of “S” if the Summative Evaluation has not been uploaded by the required due date.

G. Dispositions (attitudes, values, and beliefs) in Educator Practices

The Educator Preparation Unit developed a Unit-wide dispositions survey based on research and The Code of Ethics and The Principals of Professional Conduct of The Education Profession in Florida (http://www.fldoe.org/edstandards/pdfs/ethics.pdf), published by Florida Department of Education. After conferring with the Cooperating Teacher, the University Supervisor uploads the Dispositions Evaluation results into LiveText.
Appendix B: Student Teacher Professional Liability Insurance

Student Teachers are not covered by the school district’s or the university’s liability insurance policies. Therefore, it is strongly recommended that Student Teachers purchase their own professional liability insurance policies. Liability insurance is available from various professional organizations as well as from independent insurance agencies. Information about purchasing reasonably-priced, professional liability insurance prior to beginning an internship is available online (http://education.fsu.edu/student-resources/student-academic-services-oasis/classroom-field-experience/professional-liability-insurance) and from the Office of Academic Services and Intern Support, 2301 Stone Building, Tallahassee, FL 32306-4450.

Appendix E: LiveText, and Student Teacher Evaluation and Schedule

LiveText

LiveText is an electronic assessment and communication system used in field experience work. Student Teaching Evaluation forms are located in the LiveText system and accessed by University Supervisors.

LiveText Help Desk provides Students, Program Faculty, and University Supervisors with technical assistance (support@livetext.com; 1-866-548-3839).

Questions about LiveText program assessments, should be directed to Tonya Jones, Live Text Coordinator (tjones7@fsu.edu; 850.644.1627).

Questions about placement information posted in LiveText should be directed to Patrick Malone, Director of Student Teaching (pmalone@fsu.edu; 850.644.0031).

Student Teacher Evaluation

The Florida Accomplished Educator Practices (FEAPs), established by State Board of Education Rule 6A-5.065 in 1998, are standards to evaluate Student Teachers.

FEAPS will be assessed using the LEON LEADS model. Both FEAPs (via LEON LEADS) and Dispositions will be evaluated during Student Teaching.

FEAPs and Leon LEADS

LEON LEADS is a Teacher Evaluation System utilized by Leon County Schools, Leon Co., Florida. Utilizing LEADS as the system to evaluate Student Teachers (a) provides continued evaluation of all required FEAPs and Indicators and (b) links Student Teaching Evaluation with a School District Evaluation Model that is based on one of Florida’s recognized evaluation models (i.e., Marzano). Finally, LEADS introduces Student Teachers to a School District Evaluation Model prior to entering their first-year of teaching. Such an introduction better prepares Student Teachers for annual evaluation as a teacher in a school district.

Formative and Summative Evaluation Report forms, available in LiveText, assess Student Teachers on each FEAP and corresponding indicators, as configured in LEON LEADS. Ratings for each Domain and Element of LEON LEADS—those observed during that evaluation period—must be entered into LiveText timely by University Supervisors (see Evaluation Schedule). Comments on strengths or concerning what the Student Teacher needs to do to develop this practice (required), enhance evaluation results. To ensure meaningful evaluation occurs, Cooperating Teachers and Student Teachers should review together the LEADS Domains and Elements.

The Summative Evaluation Report must reflect the level of performance attained by the Student Teacher at the completion of Student Teaching, including the Student Teacher’s collection of evidence and analysis of positive impact on P12 student learning. The Cooperating Teacher, University Supervisor, and Student Teacher must be involved in the evaluation.

Dispositions

Disposition indicators evaluate the professional attitudes, values, and beliefs of Student Teachers. Disposition Evaluation Rubrics may be accessed at the following website address: http://education.fsu.edu/student-resources/student-academic-services-oasis/educator-preparation.

Appendix F: Tips on Obtaining A Teaching Position

Vacancies for teaching positions, usually beginning in August, become known to employing officials at various times. School principals prefer to have their vacancies filled by June or July if possible, but many are hiring well into August. Consequently, the period of greatest employment is between May and July. Vacancies in Florida continue to be filled through the opening weeks of the school year.

Many school systems need new teachers in January. Students who graduate in December can attempt to obtain employment at that time. They should begin making contacts for positions prior to the Winter break.

Often, students want to teach in the system in which they student teach. In these cases they should submit applications and seek interviews with school district officials during the Student Teaching term.

Students should obtain letters of recommendation from their Cooperating Teachers from any pre-internship classes, as well as from their internship. Many students will also wish to obtain a letter from their University Supervisor and Area Coordinator. An education job fair is often held at FSU in the spring semester where representatives from school districts throughout Florida and even other states are present to recruit new teachers.

A. Learning About Vacant Teaching Positions

Three usual ways of learning about teaching vacancies:

1. Personal Inquiry. This involves visiting or calling the personnel office of the school district or principals of schools in which one wishes to explore the possibility of teaching. Most districts have a central listing of current vacancies.

2. Letter of Inquiry. A letter of inquiry is written to ascertain whether a vacancy exists or might occur. This letter is written to indicate an interest in working in that district or school. Use of the ‘letter of inquiry’ is a very effective means of obtaining information on vacancies in locations where personal contacts cannot be made.

3. Services of the FSU Career Center. The University Career Center (http://www.career.fsu.edu/) assists students with resume and portfolio preparation. The Center also receives notices of opportunities for teaching positions from many Florida school systems and many schools throughout the nation. In addition to on-going notices available at the Career Center, departments and colleges frequently receive vacancy notices and post them on bulletin boards.

B. Applying for a Teaching Position

Students are encouraged to work with their program faculty and the FSU Career Center about professional procedures to follow when applying and interviewing for a teaching position.
