DEPARTMENT
Florida State University’s School of Teacher Education in the College of Education in conjunction with the Office of Research invites applications for a twelve-month Teaching Faculty I position to coordinate the orientation and mobility specialization. The position will begin in November 2017 and offers the opportunity to work in a research university with accomplished and innovative faculty committed to transforming the field of education. For more information about the college, visit education.fsu.edu.

RESPONSIBILITIES
Major responsibilities include teaching classes, recruiting and advising students, identifying, recruiting and acting as liaison with adjuncts teaching courses related to the orientation and mobility specialization, grant writing, management and care of project resources, placement/supervision of students in internships/practicums, and preparing students and practitioners for passing national certification exams. Also will act as a liaison with and resource for other orientation and mobility specialists in the state of Florida and with others in similar positions across the country.

QUALIFICATIONS
• Earned doctoral degree in Special Education, Vision Rehabilitation, Visual Disabilities, or a related field.
• At least 3 years of experience as a Teacher of Students with Visual Impairments (TVI) for a school district, public or private school, or public or private agency.
• Must hold and maintain ACVREP certification in orientation and mobility.
• Experience teaching college students the skills to work with individuals with visual impairments, including skills necessary to develop proficiency teaching orientation and mobility.
• Experience writing grants and managing grant-funded projects.
• High degree of professionalism and ability to work effectively and diplomatically with students, faculty, researchers, and university collaborators at all levels.

HOW TO APPLY
If qualified and interested in this position, apply to Florida State University at jobs.fsu.edu. Applicants are required to complete the online application with all applicable information, including work history and education details.

CONTACT
Dr. Sandra Lewis
Professor, Visual Disabilities
slewis@fsu.edu

Florida State University is an equal employment opportunity employer and educational provider committed to a policy of non-discrimination for any member of the University’s community on the basis of race, creed, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, disability, veterans’ or marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or any other protected group status. This policy applies to faculty, staff, students, visitors, applicants, and contractors in a manner consistent with applicable federal and state laws, regulations, ordinances, orders and rules, and University’s policies, procedures, and processes.