DEPARTMENT
The Department of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies (ELPS) at Florida State University is pleased to announce a Visiting Specialized (Teaching) faculty position in the Leadership Studies program, which is situated in the Higher Education program.

Florida State University has a commitment to leadership education, as seen through the Undergraduate Certificate in Leadership Studies, undergraduate leadership course offerings, and the Leadership Learning Research Center. The Undergraduate Certificate in Leadership Studies is a partnership between the Department of Leadership and Policy Studies in the College of Education and the Center for Leadership and Social Change in the Division of Student Affairs. It is an 18-credit, interdisciplinary, and experiential program that prepares students for leadership in multiple contexts.

Leadership education at Florida State University has expanded to include multiple course offerings and the new Leadership Learning Research Center (LLRC). The LLRC informs and supports scholars, educators, and practitioners regarding leadership teaching and learning through scholarship, curriculum development, and consultation. The strength of the LLRC resides in its theory-to-practice-to-theory framework, where research is directly applied to both curricular and co-curricular leadership education. You can learn more about the Undergraduate Certificate in Leadership Studies and the Leadership Learning Research Center at thecenter.fsu.edu/llrc.

RESPONSIBILITIES
As a Specialized Teaching position (non-tenure track), this position requires instruction for four classes in the Fall and Spring terms and two classes in the Summer term. This position is the result of Florida State University’s pledge to improving the overall university student/faculty ratio and class size.

QUALIFICATIONS
Candidates for this Specialized (Teaching) Faculty position should have an earned doctorate in leadership studies, higher education, or another academic discipline with an emphasis in leadership, higher education administration, or student development. We seek an individual who can contribute to our emphasis on leadership, social justice, and student success and who is committed to undergraduate instruction and advising. The ideal candidate will demonstrate ability and commitment in promoting and fostering a supportive learning environment, as well as knowledge in curriculum development, and has experience teaching undergraduate students.

HOW TO APPLY
If qualified and interested in this position, apply to Florida State University at jobs.fsu.edu. Applicants are required to complete the online application with all applicable information, including work history and education details. In addition to the online application, candidates should submit an application package that includes a cover letter, CV, sample publication, and contact information (not letters) of three references to:

Theresa Harrell
Department of Educational Leadership and Policy Studies 1209 Stone Building
Tallahassee, FL 32306-4452

or via email at tharrell@fsu.edu.

The application deadline is April 16th, 2018 and review of materials will begin immediately.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT:
Dr. Kathy Guthrie
kguthrie@fsu.edu

Florida State University is an Equal Opportunity/Access/Affirmative Action/Pro Disabled & Veteran employer. FSU’s Equal Opportunity Statement can be viewed at: hr.fsu.edu/PDF/Publications/diversity/EOE_Statement.pdf.